

Company Profile

apaiser now brings to Australia its extraordinary range of luxury, hand crafted, engineered stone bathware. Once the province of five star resorts and the luxury spas and villa's of Asia's elite, this extraordinary product is now available for the Australian market.

For the first time it is now possible to have baths, basins and shower bases made from a unique stone aggregate that is natural and organic in appearance and feel and has superior thermal properties. The apaiser colour range is extensive and available across the product set.

apaiser bathware allows you to redefine the bathroom. Instead of the conformity of white bathware, apaiser has at last created an alternative to the plain white standard. With its smooth irresistible touch and warm tactile properties, this affordable, contemporary product range is allowing designers and homeowners to create luxury bathrooms within the home.

apaiser allows designers to focus on bathroom design, creating a space of beauty, style and atmosphere to relax the mind and indulge the senses. apaiser's range of sophisticated and contemporary bathware, exemplifies the new approach to luxury in bathrooms. It exudes an organic, natural and stone like appearance, which imparts a quality and sense of nature and man in synergy.

apaiser has revolutionised the possibilities of stone in the bathroom and has transformed it from a simple medium to the material for the new millennium. The unique manufacturing process allows apaiser to create sublime and fluid shapes in almost any form, with uniformity of colour, strength and integrity unachievable in natural stone.

This attractive, sleek and low maintenance product is versatile, light and durable, offering the option for installation in elevated floors. apaiser's unique product requires no sealing, is resistant to staining, heat and chemicals, is abrasion resistant and is non-porous. The unique apaiser product offers various finishes, as well as the option of shimmering chips of mother of pearl, or the ability to embed virtually any added component.

Contemporary bathrooms are riding the crest of a new wave of creativity and inspiration, as homeowners become more discerning about design and more demanding in their lifestyle habits. apaiser's bathware range, with its serene lines, subdued grace and luxury of texture, is set to become intrinsic to the overall concept of the bathroom as a sanctuary.

Now, a new status symbol of luxury living is available in Australia for the first time.
